

FSC certified papers

April 10, 2007

In order to use the FSC logo and an environmental claim on paper, the product must be tracked through the FSC chain of custody. This means, the forest, paper producer, paper merchant and printer must all be FSC-certified. For some papers, you must request the 'FSC certified grade'. Label graphics are provided to all certificate holders by their certifier. Also, please note that basis weights vary by merchant, be sure to inquire what basis weights a particular merchant carries.

Uncoated Free-sheet

Uncoated free-sheet papers have a slightly fibrous surface with the quality characteristics needed in order to withstand the rigors of offset presses.

Used for: communications and advertising such as direct mail, bills, reports, or magazines
